DEDICATION

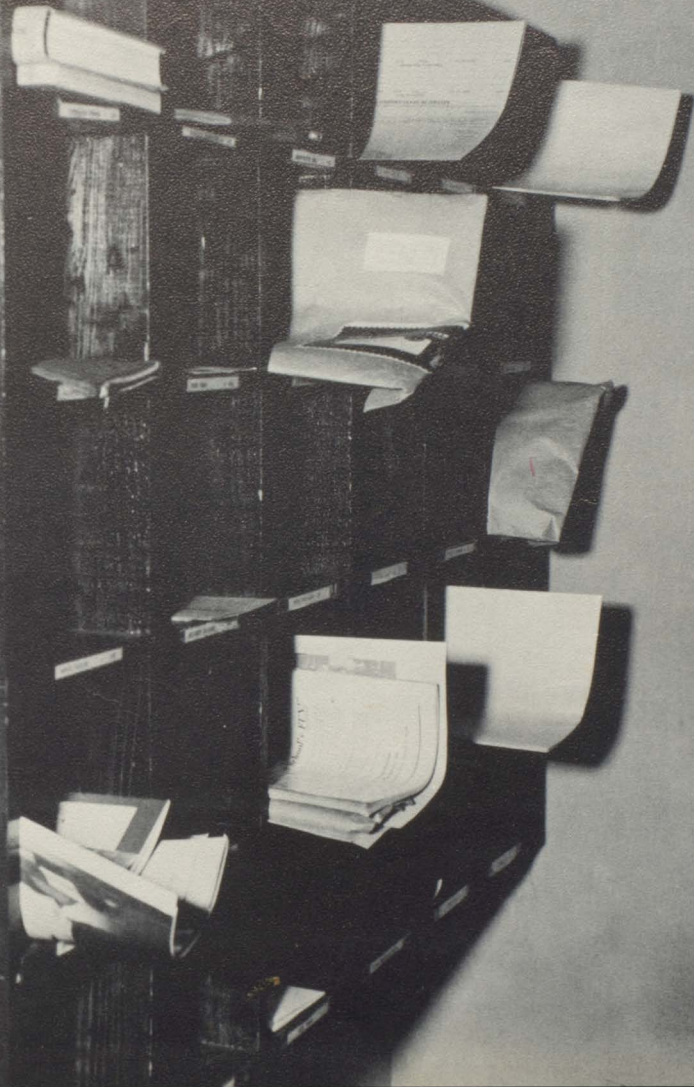

Presenting Miss Louise Lilly, secretary to the principal, office clerk, typing teacher. These are some of her official titles, but they don't begin to explain the real significance of the signature on the right. It may not appear on our diplomas, but what has that to do with the daily importance of having it on our excuses, permits, receipts, letters, and report cards?

Because not anyone has served us all more willingly nor in more capacities, we affectionately dedicate to our Miss Lilly this thirty-first volume of THE PEANUT.

Best Wishes Louise Lilly

OUTSTANDING SENIORS

JIMMY CROCKER

The rare combination of brain plus brawn is found in our Student Senate president, Jimmy Crocker. Jimmy has been an officer in the senate for two years and a class officer earlier. His memberships included Hi-Y, Key Club, and Monogram Club. He has stood well in his classes. Brains are not all, however. As a freshman he played JV football and then played three years on the varsity. His alertness and spirit of co-operation won for him the honor of serving as captain of the 1952 squad. Whenever the reputation of Suffolk High has been at stake, Jimmy's industry, resourcefulness, and dependability have caused his fellow students to single him out to carry the colors. His Alma Mater will always be grateful for his many services.

The five Seniors pictured on these pages were chosen from a class of fifty-one by the Seniors, themselves, each member naming two choices by secret ballot. They represent their classmates' ideal of leadership, citizenship, scholarship, and personality.

SUE WOODWARD

We recognize in Sue, first and foremost, that brand of scholarship which we all salute. Studious—but never pedantic, she has set a challenging pace in our classrooms and helped us to see that integrity has its academic application. Paradoxically, perhaps, Sue is an accomplished musician, having won statewide acclaim with the flute. To round out the picture let us mention the fact that Sue has represented her class three years in the Student Senate and has served as treasurer of the A.P.T.P. In spite of the heavy demand of her senior course she has cheerfully and willingly taken on one of the most exacting tasks connected with this yearbook—that of photograph editor. We know that Sue has set herself some mighty high goals and we're equally sure that she will attain them. Our very best will go with her.

DIANE WHITFIELD

Diane Whitfield has been an active participant in scholastic activities as well as such extra-curricular projects as work on the annual staff, cheerleading, and forensics. Diane has been outstanding in dramatics, having had leading roles in three-act plays for three years. We look to Diane to supply the artistic touch whenever it is needed. She has a real flair for injecting color into her surroundings whether they be in class, decorating the gym, making posters, speaking in the American Legion Contest, cheering for a Suffolk team, or paying Peanut bills. Diane has done well scholastically and has been in the top section of her class throughout school.

NICK LAWYER

Nick Lawyer's name has long been a synonym for football. Consequently, not everyone is aware of his enviable record as a leader in other school activities. This year he has served as president of the Key Club and of the Goober Hi-Y and has edited the Peanut Picker. He has regularly been a member of the Student Senate where he has accomplished a great deal through committee work. Withal he has maintained a consistently good academic rating. Nick's chief enthusiasm is undoubtedly football; he has been a valuable member of the varsity for four years and the recipient of an outstanding player trophy this fall. He has been a track star, too, and a JV basketball player. Nick seems to be able to take everything in his stride, except perhaps politics. The November elections upset him a bit, but we think he'll survive.

SHIRLEY RICHARDSON

Shirley's honorary title should be Miss Secretary of 1953. No matter in what field of activity she engaged, and there have been many, she invariably assumed secretarial duties. We think this denotes versatility as well as dependability. Her talents have been particularly well demonstrated in dramatics with roles in both three-act and one-act plays and in music with her place as first clarinetist in the band. Somehow in spite of these foregoing activities she has found the time to serve as editor of this volume of the Peanut and to do a large share of class and student government work. Withal she has earned an enviable scholastic record. Her wide circle of friends is perhaps the best proof of her delightful personality.

Band Members Go to Warwick

Nine members of the Suffolk High School Band will travel to Warwick High School on February 6-8 to perform as members of the 115 piece All State Band.

First string members of the All State Band from Suffolk are: Jean Hurley, bass clarinet; Dorothy Farr, alto clarinet; June Gray, clarinet; Sue Woodward, flute; Tommy Johnson, alto saxophone; and Jimmy Annas, trombone. Winning places in the "reservate" are Donald Evans, first alternate trumpet; Dianne Holland, first alternate baritone; and Martha Speight, second alternate flute.

Gala Affair Nov. 14th Parade, Football, Dance

The Suffolk High School Red Raiders will entertain the Harrisonburg Blue Streaks in the annual Peanut Bowl Game. This year's queen for the Peanut Bowl game, Carolyn Munden will reign year after year. The game will be a gala affair with floats and a parade during the afternoon. Last year were the Raider's foe in the Peanut Bowl which the Rotary won 12-7. Besides all the festivities, concessions and various activities bring a big crowd.

Carolyn Munden

Carolyn Munden P-nut Bowl Queen

Carolyn Munden was recognized as the second best in her class. She was a member of the High School gets a certain percentage of the sale from the Rotary Club. This year the game should be a very exciting set between the Harrisonburg and the Peanut Bowl and is called the Peanut Bowl game.

A W A R D S

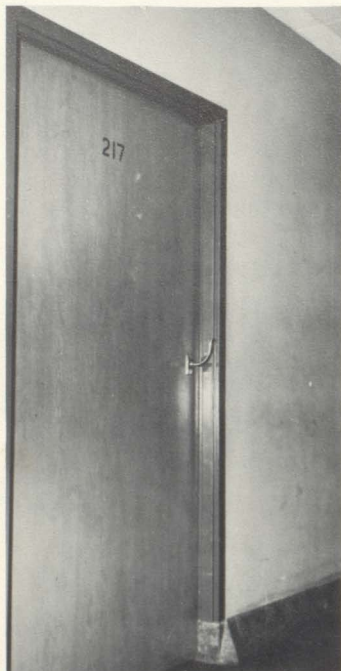

We want to pay special tribute to Peggy Screws, the only chief majorette the Suffolk High School Band has had since its organization. For five years Peggy has led the majorette crew with rare skill and grace. Her responsibilities have been heavy, but her accomplishments attest a maturity far beyond her years. When the last football game of 1952 had been played, the records showed that Peggy had conducted fifty-five halftime shows—not a single game missed in the last five seasons. The Red Raiders presented her a trophy in recognition of this remarkable achievement. In addition to conducting her own classes in tap, ballet, and acrobatic dancing, Peggy has become such a proficient baton twirler that she won last fall top place in the "Dixielander Majorette and Teenage Talent Show" for this area. She will thus be entitled to compete for the title, "Miss Majorette of Dixie." She will always be "Miss Majorette" to the Red Raiders and to Suffolk High School.

S P O R T S

There was just one reason why the Red Raiders failed to chalk up another Undeclared Season. Better than half way through the schedule, a real epidemic of injuries befell them. Several key members of the squad including captain, halfback, quarterback, and an end made as many trips to the emergency room as to the goal line. Others including an additional quarterback had to take to the bench because of less serious but equally stubborn hurts. Consequently, we thought it appropriate to picture below Room 217 at Louise Obici Memorial Hospital, "endowed" this season by the football heroes of S.H.S.

Loyal Raider fans made it possible for the whole squad to see the Army-Navy game in Philadelphia. Here's one busload just before their departure from Suffolk.
